DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

G. O. POWNING, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

TUESDAY.....NOVEMBER 11, 1879.

THE DAILY JOURNAL AND WEEKLY JOURNAL FREE TO THE END OF THE YEAR.

All persons who do not now take the DAILY and WEEKLY JOURNAL can have either free to the end of the year by sending $6 for the Daily or $2 50 for the Weekly in advance for the year 1880. This offer applies only to new subscribers.

$2 50 PER YEAR.

On and after January 1, 1880, the subscription price of the WEEKLY JOURNAL will be $2 50 per annum, or $1 25 for 6 months. At $2 50 per annum the WEEKLY JOURNAL is by far the best and cheapest weekly paper in Nevada.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Chili is defeating Peru. Chicago has a mining stock board. Russia and England are still growling at each other. The late storm played havoc with the shipping in San Francisco bay.

General Grant's mediation prevented a war between China and Japan.

Fatrel, a schooner, became water-logged at sea, and fifteen lives were lost.

A train fell through a bridge across the Missouri at St. Louis yesterday, killing three men, wounding three, and destroying $100,000 worth of property.

The election returns from New York are not yet complete, but the latest news are that the Republicans elect Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General and Controller. The Times also claims Lieutenant Governor and Treasurer. Official count begins to-day.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Ex-Senator Harlan, of Iowa, is for General Grant for President.

General Walhall is a candidate for the United States Senate in Mississippi.

Some of the Ohio papers are talking of Tilden and Bishop as the ticket next year.

Mr. Clarkson N. Potter has been nominated for President by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Ex-Congressman Holman, of Indiana, favors Mr. Hendricks. He believes General Grant will not again become a candidate, but will throw his influence in favor of Mr. Washburne.

In the opinion of the St. Louis Post the nomination of General Hancock would be a grave blunder on the part of the Democracy. The fate of McClellan in 1864, it says, should be remembered.

"When politics resemble a short, chopping sea," says the San Francisco Bulletin, "the United States Senate is always sure to be at cross purposes with the people. When they are rising it occupies a position of antagonism. When a reception takes place it is always under the control of the opposite party."

THE EQUALIZATION BILL.

The Winnemucca Silver State again put forth some remarks on the bill to create a State Board of Equalization. We reiterate that the bill did not provide for the equalization of property in "two" or more counties. We confess that the word "retain" in a former article was a mistake. We should have said "insert," and for the editor of the Silver State or anybody else to construe rights in any other light than that the bill did pass the Senate, and was defeated in the House, is simply to write himself down an ass. The record will show who voted for the bill in the Senate on the test proposition, but to save the editor of the Silver State the trouble of hunting it up, we will state that the editor of the JOURNAL was one of the thirteen who was friendly to the measure, and that he will vote in favor of a similar bill at the next session.

THE SIGNAL SERVICE.

We have received a copy of the annual report of General Albert J. Myer, Chief Signal Officer, and it is a very interesting exhibit of the operations of the service during the year just closed. It shows that during the past year the course of drill and instruction in military signalling and telegraphy, meteorology and other signal service duties at the school of instruction and practice at Fort Whipple, Va., has been improved by useful additions.

An examination of the daily forecast or indications as to the accuracy of the preannouncements of the state of the weather shows an average percentage of 90.7 percent verified. A minute analysis of the same forecast and a careful comparison with the weather and the instrumental changes afterwards occurring within the time and within the district to which each forecast has had reference has given an average percentage of accuracy of 86.6 per cent. An average of 90 per cent to follow this comparison is also believed to be attainable.

Since the date of the last annual report a railway bulletin service on railways has been established in co-operation with the Signal Office. The different railway companies receive at the time of the midnight report and by telegraph a copy of the report which is distributed under supervision of the superintendents of the railway telegraphs to designated stations along the lines.

Thirty-six railways with a total of 1,212 stations, are now co-operating in this service. The reports when received are bulletined. The display of cautionary day and night signals by flags and lights upon the lakes and the great ports of the United States, upon the Atlantic and Gulf coasts has been made systematically on occasions of supposed especial danger at ninety-four different sea and lake ports and cities. There were added on January 1, 1878, to the display of day and night signals at the ports which had been "cautionary" alone up to that date, the display by day or night of the "cautionary off shore signal," indicating that, while winds might be high and there might be danger, the winds to follow were expected to blow "off shore." It is of important utility in the management and for the safety of vessels to be thus preadvised as to coming winds. The adopting of this signal—first made, so far as is known, at the port of the United States—has much increased the usefulness of the service. Of the total number of cautionary signals thus displayed 80.1 per cent have afterward been reported of justified. In the cases reported as failures of justification following the display the wind did not attain at the place of display a violence held to justify it. No great storm has swept over any considerable number of the ports of the United States without preannouncement.

In concluding his report General Myer says:—"The co-operation of scientific men, at home and abroad, has been continued. A world-wide study has become possible. The popular confidence and the support of the press have been steady and considerate. There is the assurance of success in achieving a public good to encourage earnest labor."

AN INCREASE IN VALUATION.

The returns to the State Controller show an increase of $540,036 88 in the value of real and personal property for 1879 over 1878, a very gratifying exhibit when we remember that the Legislature in figuring upon the rate of State taxation estimated upon $25,000,000, allowing for a reduction of three millions and a half below the returns of 1878. The 1878 value was $28,246,010 39, while in 1879 the value is $28,786,017 27. In 1878 the rate of State tax was 99 cents, which yielded to the State $252,403 95; this year the rate is only 55 cents, and the revenue will only be $154,422 50, a less amount by nearly $100,000. But still nearly $20,000 more than was deemed necessary from that source to keep the State upon a cash basis.

As was expected, the dividends of the California, and Consolidated Virginia have been passed for the month. It is to be hoped that each will give its stockholders a Christmas present next month.

Col. Gillette, Superintendent of the Savage, has resigned, and J. P. Kelly, a lawyer, and formerly of Pioche, has been appointed in his place.

Every Northern State, with the exception of Oregon and Indiana, will have a Republican Governor on the 1st of January, 1880.

MINING OUTLOOK FOR 1880.

The mining outlook for 1880 is full of promise. The Stock Report pictures it as follows:

A larger bullion yield than that of 1879, as far as the Pacific Coast mines are concerned, is already assured. Bodie District will have 105 stamps at work, instead of 65 stamps, as at present. And there will be enough ore to keep these stamps busy. The Tuolumne District will increase its list of bullion producers. Columbus District, through the famous Mt. Diablo and the less known but equally promising East Mt. Diablo, will be making a lively stir with bullion. Eureka District will probably surprise its best friends with a largely increased output of bullion. The possibilities of the Comstock cannot be told in the limits of a single article. If the developments meet expectations the north end mines will revive the days of bonanza prosperity. Glancing over the whole field we see enough to warrant the prediction that 1880 will be a much better mining year than 1879. And we make that prediction.

The Eureka Leader thinks the building of the proposed railroad from the Mound House through Lyon county and Walker river to Aurora will undoubtedly work a great injury to Carson, and thus speculates:

Since the opening up of the Bodie mines the principal point for the transhipment of gold and passengers for that region has been at Carson, and has added very much to the business transacted at that place. A large number of teams have been employed in doing the freighting, thus making Carson the headquarter for that business. The passenger travel add a no inconsiderable item to the resources of the hotels and restaurants. All this will be lost to that community when the proposed road is built. This business has added very materially to Carson's prosperity for the past three years, and its loss will be deeply felt. The town for railroad purposes will then become simply a way station, instead of as now a transhipping point. Its resources will then be the Mint, the railroad shops, the Orphan's Home, the State Prison, the State officers and the biennial sessions of the Legislature. The business men there are getting somewhat exercised over the situation, and well they may be.

King Louis, of Bavaria, though a handsome, graceful and accomplished young bachelor, and extremely agreeable in manners and conversation, has a strange and insuperable aversion to society. He is a poet, and is, moreover, skilled in art and music. He is a stern critic and easily angered by any inaccuracy in the performance of a classical work on the stage of his theatre. If an actor omits a line, or even substitute one conjunction for another, his Majesty's body-servant, who waits in the ante-room of the royal box, is immediately sent behind the scenes with the royal reproof. He is lavish of praise, however, and his generosity to artists who afford him pleasure is unbounded, and it is said to not infrequently happen when he has been more than usually gratified by the interpretation of some favorite role, that the singer or actor deemed by him worthy of especial reward is awakened at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning by a violent ringing at the doorbell of his or her habitation, the untimely tintinnabulator being a court jockey, the bearer of a diamond bracelet, brooch, or ring, or haply the cross or medal of a Royal Bavarian decoration.

HOW WHALES ARE CAPTURED.—The story-book pictures of whaling, in which a man throws a harpoon from the bow of a boat, are no longer correct. Of late years the weapon generally used has been a bomb that is fired from a gun and exploded in the whale's body. A new implement of this sort is described as follows: The lance weighs seven and one-half pounds and contains one and one-quarter pounds of gunpowder, and is propelled by a heavy rocket. There being no discharge of a heavy gun, the recoil is a push rather than a blow, and the bomb is ignited by the rocket when the latter has burned out. A chain toggle attached to the front end of the rocket is released by the explosive, securely holding the whale, which, if not instantly killed cannot long survive the explosion.

"The sweetest voice I ever heard," said the bishop, "was a woman's. It was soft and low, but penetrating; musical and measured, but not precise."

"The sweetest voice I ever heard," replied the professor, "was a man's. I had been out fishing nearly all day and got back to the hotel about 3 o'clock. The man came out on the front stoop, opened his mouth like a cavern, and roared 'Dix-NUR!!' till it sounded the bulk in the cellar. I have heard other voices since then, but I never —"

But the bishop, with a look of intense disgust over his face, was out of hearing.

COLFAX.—The enterprising little town which was so nearly destroyed by fire a short time ago, seems to be in no way disengaged over its great losses, but Phoenix-like is rising from its ashes, says the Grass Valley Union. Large loads of lumber are arriving on the burnt district every day, and new buildings are going up on every hand. It will not be many weeks before the town will put on a new and pleasing appearance, and it will be hard to discover traces of its fiery visitor.

Some of the papers are discussing whether salmon land-locked in Tahoe and Pyramid lakes and the Truckee will thrive well, and the evidence is that they will. Salmon appear to do well enough in Washington lake, but then they get into and out of that body of water every winter, when the surrounding country is overflowed.—[Sacramento Record-Union.]

DAILY MAIL.—We now have a daily mail service between Reno and this place, where formerly it was but six times a week. The convenience is greatly appreciated by the business portion of our community.—[Sausalito Advocate.]
